

The largest component of health insurance is coverage through private health insurance.

(Note: it is possible to have more than one type of health care coverage.)

